

Quotable Quotes

A great secret of success is to go through life as a man who never gets used up.

– Albert Schweitzer (1875-1965), theologian, organist, philosopher, physician, and medical missionary.

All are born to observe order, but few are born to establish it.

– Joseph Joubert (1754-1824), moralist and essayist.

The way to develop decisiveness is to start right where you are, with the very next question you face.

– Napoleon Hill (1883-1970), author.

It is circumstances (difficulties) which show what men are.

– Epictetus (55AD-135AD), Stoic philosopher.

Work first, and then rest.

– John Ruskin (1819-1900), writer, art critic, draughtsman, water colourist, social thinker, philanthropist.

War is only a cowardly escape from the problems of peace.

– Thomas Mann (1875-1955), novelist, short story writer, essayist.

Ambition is the last refuge of failure.

– Oscar Wilde (1854-1900), writer, poet, playwright.

A great leader's courage to fulfill his vision comes from passion, not position.

– John C. Maxwell (b. 1947), author, professional speaker, pastor.

A leader leads by example, whether he intends to or not.

– John Quincy Adams (1767-1848), 6th President of the United States.

All human wisdom is summed up in two words – wait and hope.

– Alexandre Dumas (1802-1870), playwright, novelist.