Transnational Terrorism and the Threat of Self-Radicalization:
Analysis and Possible Responses

Speaker: Dr. Kumar Ramakrishna Head (Centre of Excellence for National Security)

S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies

About the Talk:

This talk will examine the nature of the threat of Transnational Terrorism and in particular the increasingly important trend of Self-Radicalization. It will assess the relative importance of the Internet in Self-Radicalization and discuss possible counter-strategies to cope with this threat.

About the Speaker:

KUMAR RAMAKRISHNA is Associate Professor and Head of the Centre of Excellence for National Security (CENS) at the S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), Singapore. He has co-edited two well-received books on counter-terrorism, The New Terrorism: Anatomy, Trends and Counter-Strategies (2002) as well as After Bali: The Threat of Terrorism in Southeast Asia (2004). His major book, Emergency Propaganda: The Winning of Malayan Hearts and Minds, 1948-1958, (2002) was described by the International History Review as “required reading for historians of Malaya, and for those whose task is to counter insurgents, guerrillas, and terrorists”. His most recent book, Radical Pathways: Understanding Muslim Radicalization in Indonesia (2009) was identified by Choice in October 2009 as a “recommended” reading.
